Chapter 2

7. What do you believe is symbolic of the word “warm”?

Personal Assessment Questions:

- Science has demonstrated that newborn babies have two critical needs to survive: love and touch. Without these, they may die as a result of “failure to thrive.” When it comes to your spouse, your children or your significant other, how are you doing in your “hand encounters”? What can you do to improve your expressions of love?

- Assess your own life and describe it in terms of “hand” and “warm.” Do you feel the “warmth” of being loved? What can you do to increase warmth to your significant relationships?

The Chapter: “It Takes Three to Make One” (Love and Its Beginning)

1. Have you ever attended a Bible study or class, or have you ever heard a sermon preached on the nature of the relationship among the members of the Godhead? If not, why do you think that is?

2. The Bible study group listed a number of characteristics describing the relationship between the members of the Godhead. Can you add any that would come to mind and have a biblical basis?

Don’t these statements contradict John’s statement that “God is love”?
